

Come for an empowering, profound experience as three ancient paths address healing our body, mind, emotions, and community in these troubled times

Where can we draw the strength to face the tragedy of New Orleans, the pain of the Iraq war and the pressure of a diverse society? As soulful women and men, we are called to act as agents of healing, and the ancient spiritual traditions surge to life to answer that call! The Mystic—Andrew Harvey, the Magi—Joseph Lee, the Shaman—Foster Perry will again join forces, as they did so successfully here a year ago, to call forth the sacred healing powers of heart, will and nature.

YOU WILL

- Understand three distinct, dynamic spiritual temperaments and paths
- Experience the sparkling synergy of their interaction
- Discern which path is yours and the energizing focus that knowledge brings

Andrew Harvey as the voice of the modern Mystic embodies passion and courage. He will be our guide to explore global healing. Sacred activism is the fusion of the most profound, grounded mystical knowledge and peace with focused, wise action in order to support life, preserve the environment, ensure human rights, and transform systems that engender war and the continuation of poverty. With his vision of transformation, Andrew will share his newest practices and recent insights. This will include holistic sacred practices that sacred activists need to ground themselves to become strong, calm, courageous, and wise enough to remain centered, compassionate, creative, and active in difficult situations.

This is a path of healing attuned to the heart of God.

ANDREW HARVEY lived in South India until he was nine years old, a period that shaped his vision of the inner unity of all religions. He attended Oxford University and at age twenty-one he became the youngest person ever to be awarded England's highest academic honor. Disillusioned with life at Oxford, he returned to India to begin his spiritual search. He has since lived all over the world, and studied a variety of religions, including Hinduism, Buddhism, and Christianity. Harvey has written and edited over thirty books. Among his well-known titles are: The Tibetan Book of Living and Dying, co-authored with Sogyal Rinpoche; Dialogues with a Modern Mystic; The Way of Passion: A Celebration of Rumi; Hidden Journey; and Son of Man. He has written for the New York Times Book Review, Yoga Journal, Body/Mind/Spirit, Common Boundary, and Quest, and has taught at Oxford and Cornell, among others.

THE MYSTIC

THE MAGI

The Magi know that the universe is alive. Seemingly impersonal natural forces are conscious, intelligent, and responsive. Rediscovered age after age by seers in each culture, these are angels. In the ancient tradition of the Magi, Joseph Lee will guide the participants in invoking four healing archangels: Michael as healer of our spirit, Raphael as healer of our mind, Gabriel as healer of our emotion, and Uriel as healer of our body. Through ritual and sacred chant these divine forces will be brought to each participant. The process is not theoretical, but powerful, direct, and experiential.

This is a path of healing attuned to divine will.

JOSEPH LEE is a recognized teacher in the western mystery school tradition, which reaches back into antiquity. His teaching integrates Kabbalah, Egyptian magic, spiritual alchemy, Jungian analytic theory, and other Western esoterica. Through his study groups, retreats, workshops, and lectures, Joseph carries on the tradition of passing a sacred arcana from mouth to ear. He is known for his lively, challenging, intense, and humorous teaching style.

Foster Perry's powerful Shamanic healing techniques, Greek healing stories, and Hummingbird Medicine are concerned with the deeper values and stories of authentic revivifying power. Native peoples have an immense amount to teach us as we walk wide-eyed into this new millennium and look toward the beauty and silent wisdom of the natural world. To bring compassion in our lives, we must create a compassionate society. Hummingbird Medicine is a transformative teaching modality that aids in healing wounds, releasing fears, and freeing you to experience love, life, and divine joy.

This is a path of healing attuned to sacred body.

FOSTER PERRY has traveled the world studying, teaching, and practicing the joy of self-healing for more than nineteen years. After graduating from Georgetown University, he studied art, design, and psychology. His life's turning point occurred when he was struck by lightning, compelling him to embark on a lifelong study of the world's spiritual traditions and practices, including ritual, ceremony, and healing with shamans in North and South America. He now synthesizes his extensive knowledge of Native and South American, Asian, and European healing traditions with spiritual practices. Foster works as a ceremonial leader, workshop facilitator, author, and recording artist. His Hummingbird Healing Technique has earned him respect worldwide.
